

Contestant Letter of commitment

The unit/person have carefully read the relevant contents of the 2021 Global Hua Design Award, and promise to abide by all the regulations and voluntarily participate in the selection activities. On the premise of fully knowing and voluntarily accepting the following terms, we make the following commitment to the contest organizer:

- 1、 Participants of this Hua Design Award is voluntary, and there is no charge. All the intellectual property rights of the evaluated works belong to the participants. The organizing committee has the right to disseminate all the evaluated works, including but not limited to publicity, exhibition and publication.
- 2、 Each participant can apply for more than one work to participate in the evaluation. Each work can only have one participant and can only apply for one group. The works submitted for appraisal and selection must be original works and have not applied for intellectual property rights and other related patents. All those involved in infringement shall be borne by the participants themselves.
- 3、 The participants must promise that their works will not infringe the intellectual property rights of others. If they plagiarize other people's works or steal trade secrets, the legal liability shall be borne by the participants, and the organizing committee has the right to unilaterally cancel their qualifications for participation and award at any stage of the selection.
- 4、 The participants strictly abide by the rules of this Hua Design Award, and the legal disputes caused by the intellectual property rights of the evaluated works have nothing to do with the organizing committee. In case of disputes over intellectual property rights or right of authorship within the design group, etc, The organizing committee will not be responsible for the coordination and responsibility in case of disputes over the intellectual property rights or the right of authorship of the works within the design group, and will be disqualified from participating in the competition, And the contestants will bear the corresponding consequences.
- 5、 Please keep a copy of all the materials. Once submitted, they will not be returned.
- 6、 This letter of commitment shall not be modified without permission. The contestants voluntarily accept the terms of this agreement. The terms of this agreement, as well as the right of modification, renewal and final interpretation belong to the organizing committee of the competition.

Participant's signature (handwritten):